CHAMBER MEMBERS MEET

Annual Session Held In Secretary's Rooms Last Night—Attorney Roy Carson Apprises Those Present of New Law For Planning Commission

Yesterday morning the Merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce met in the secretary's rooms at the Municipal building, and among other business transacted was the fixing of the dates for the next Dollar Day sales of the merchants as February 28, 29, and March 1. These days come on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Last night the annual meeting of the members of the Chamber of Commerce was held in the secretary's rooms, with an attendance of approximately 25. An interesting report was given of the activities of the Chamber during the year. Attorney Roy I. Carson informed the assemblage that by an act of the assembly—its last session, a measure was passed providing for a Borough Planning Commission. The Borough council is empowered with the appointment of the five members to form the Commission, and good representative men of the borough are eligible, with the exception of members of council, and the burgess. A committee of the Chamber will be named to take up the matter with council, it is to be presumed at its next regular monthly session.

Numerous matters were discussed for civic betterment, after which luncheon was enjoyed.

The date of the annual banquet of the Chamber will be held on the evening of Lincoln's birthday, February 12, at the Elks club.

TELLS HOW SHE TAUGHT TO ROB

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11. — (United Press).—How a young woman was taught to steal was told in Morals court here, when Mrs. Mary Leman, 17, was arraigned on a charge of stealing women's pocketbooks in downtown department stores.

Mrs. Leman, married at the age of 14, said a man taught her how to pick pockets and other ways of getting money without working for it. The girl revealed the name of the man who was her teacher and police are now searching for him as the modern Fagan.

Run Over By A Freight Train; Loses An Arm

Fred Pronolos, 35 years old, a coal miner, a resident of Cokeburg, is in the Memorial hospital, Monongahela, in a serious condition as a result of [illegible] by a freight train at Cokeburg Junction last night.

The man was found lying beside the track in an unconscious condition, with his right arm amputated and severe cuts about his head and shoulders.

It is alleged that Prenolos had been drinking and in this condition seated himself on the track. That he failed to hear the approach of the train. He was taken to the hospital by passersby.

Footpads In Big Haul; Get Oodles

Kansas City, Missouri, January 11.—(United Press).—Five negro bandits held up two messengers of the Main Street bank here today and escaped with $32,000 in cash.

C. J. Haake, cashier, and Frank Lodde, teller, were transporting the funds of the First National bank. They had arrived at the front door of their own bank, which is located near the Nineteenth Street police station, when the robbers attacked them. The bandits escaped through the maze of traffic, driving past the Union station near the scene of the holdup, at high speed.

AN INCREASE IN SPINDLES

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 11—(United Press)—In the great industrial drama, which marks the hift of the center of gravity of the American cotton industry from the northern to the eastern cotton states, North Carolina plays the leading part.

Her spinning industry has hit a pace so rapid that no other state north or south of the Mason and Dixon line seems to be able to keep up with her in this respect.

During the last two decades the nation has increased its cotton spindles less than 50 per cent, while in North Carolina the increase has been more than 186 per cent. according to the University of North Carolina extension service. Massachusetts alone possesses a greater number of spindles than the Tareel state now.

North Carolina has 18 per cent of the spindleage in America. Massachusetts has 29 per cent. In 1904 the figures were 36.3 per cent for the New Engand state and barely 8 per cent for North Carolina.

The industry in the central and western sections of the state is rapidly expanding, while more and more mills are being erected in the eastern or tide-water section.

Members Of Famous Cavalry Answers Call

Lewis M. Arthur, aged 85, one of the few survivors of the Ringgold Cavalry, officially designated the Twenty-second Pennsylvania Volunteer military organizations of the Union side during the Civil War, died at his home, 120 West Eleventh avenue, Homestead, late Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Arthur was born in West Columbia, where Donora now stands. At the out-break of the Civil War he enlisted in the Ringgold Calvary and served throughout the war. At the close of hostilities he returned to Carroll township, where he remained for a few years and then moved to Homestead, where he had since resided.

He had been employed by the Carnegie Land Company until 15 years ago, when he retired.

He was a member of Gen. Charles Griffin Post No. 207, G. A. R., and the First Methodist Episcopal church of Homestead.

He leaves a brother, Benjamin Arthur of Starbuck, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Ray of Homestead and Mrs. Catherine Haggerty of West Newton.

SUDDEN DEATHS ARE 50

This Is Inclusive of Persons Passing From Heart Disease—Open Grate Causes Death of 10—Eight Die As a Result of Burns At Bonfires

Coroner William Greenlee during the year just closed investigated 385 violent deaths. There were 28 homicides in the county during the year. Twenty-one persons took their own lives. The mines exacted a heavy toll—67—notwithstanding precautionary methods that were taken to avoid mine disasters.

Heart disease and sudden deaths numbered 50. The open grate caused the deaths of ten persons. Eight died of burns as the result of bonfires.

Including persons run down and killed in accidents to the cars in which they were driving, automobiles took a toll of 42 during the year. In several instances the accidents were the result of driving while intoxicated. Twenty died in the county from alcoholism during the year. The deadly railroad crossing was responsible for 16 fatalities.

A peculiar thing is that there were eight persons killed during the year by falling down stairs. Twelve trespassers on railroads were run down and killed.

Industrial accidents those killed in mills, totaled 18. Eight railroad employes were killed. Only one person was killed by lightning.

The list of causes of deaths and number that died as a result is as follows:

Homicide, 28; suicide, 21; mines, 67; mills, 18; heart disease, 50; apoplexy, 16; drowning, 16; burns from open grate, 10; scalds, 4; automobile, 42; alcoholism, 20; burns from bonfire, 8; killed at railroad crossings, 16; burns from steam, 2; railroad employes, 8; pneumonia, 16; falling down stairs, 8; explosion of powder, 2; unidentified and no cause, 3; crushed by pole, 1; thrown from horse, 1; trespassers on railroads, 12; explosion of gas, 2; electrocuted, 2; struck by lightning, 1; asphyxiation, 3; exposure, 2; falling down elevator shaft, 1; killed by street car, 2; and bicycle, 1. These make a total of 385 cases.

All Deputy Coroners Of Washington County To Continue In Office

HIGHWAYS MEN TO GO TO THE ROAD SHOW

Harrisburg, Jan. 11.— Paul D. Wright, Secretary of Highways, and William H. Connell, Deputy Secretary of Highways and Engineering Executive, of the Department of Highways, next week will attend the 21st annual convention and the 15th national road show of the American Road Builders Association in Chicago. Charles M. Upham, North Carolina State Highway Engineer is manerger of the convention and road show; and Frank Page, chairman of the North Carolina State Highway Commission, is president of the American Road Builders Association. The show is to be held in the Coliseum and adjoining buildings, and the convention in the Congress Hotel. Many Pennsylvania county commissioners and county road engineers also will attend the Chicago convention.

Coroner William Greenlee has announced that there will be no changes in the personnel of the deputy coronerships for the forthcoming year. This dispels rumors to the effect that Mr. Greenlee might make some changes.

"There will be no changes in the personnel of the deputy coroners for the coming year," Coroner Greenlee is reported to have said.

"The work of the deputies during the past year was satisfactory, and all of them will be continued," Coroner Greenlee said.

Which means, that among the category, Deputy Coroner Michael T. Crowley of Charleroi, is due for congratulations on the part of his friends.

DR. FOX TO BE A SPEAKER

Indications point to a large attendance at the Merchandise convention of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce which will be held in Pittsburgh on January 21 and 22. Walter Rosenbaum, chairman of the general committee in charge of the meeting, announced yesterday that the program for the two-day session which will be held at the William Penn Hotel is almost complete.

The convention is designed to interest retailers from the thirty-three counties of Western Pennsylvania. Reduced railroad rates have been secured from the cities affected to Pittsburgh. The general committee has received such a large response to the invitations issued that there seems to be no doubt the affair will be an overwhelming success. The Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh is co-operating with the local general committee in perfecting details.

It has been announced that some of the speakers who will address the retailers include Dr. Leonard P. Fox of Harrisburg, who is a research manager of the State Chamber and whose topic will be "State and Local Laws Affecting the Retailers;" Judge H. B. Wells of Bordentown, New Jersey; S. H. Ditchett, director of the Dry Goods Economist; Herbert J. [illegible], manager of Strawbridge & Clothier of Philadelphia, and several others whom the committee is not yet ready to announce.

The visitors will be welcomed to Pittsburgh by Vice President George R. Wallace of the Chamber of Commerce in behalf of this organization, and the response will be made by Alba B. Johnson of Philadelphia, President of the Pennsylvania State Chamber.

A GUN UNIT FOR MONESSEN

The establishment of a Machine Gun unit of the 110th Infantry in Monessen is now assured and Sunday afternoon Major Junk of the medical detachment of the 110th Infantry, of Connellsville, will be at the Elks club to conduct a medical examination of all applicants. Eighty men have signified their intention to join the membership of the new organization. A minimum of 59 men has heretofore comprised a unit's membership, but it is thought that efforts will be made to grant a lien to the organization in the making and extend the number to 75. The Monessen organization will be named Company D, of the First Battalion, 110th Infantry, and will consist of a captain, two lieutenants, nine sergeants and 12 corporals. The selected applicants will be mustered in Monday, January 21, at which time prominent military officials of the state will probably be present.

Company D was formerly located at Beaver Falls, but due to the fact that half of its membership resided at Elwood City, a neighboring town, making it inconvenient and difficult at times to have a good attendance at the drills. It is believed that the company will progress better in its new location. For the present the drills will be conducted at the Turner Hall, Monessen, to be later supplanted by the State Armory. Other companies of the 110th Regiment are Company A, at Monongahela; Company of New Brighton, and Company C of Somerset.

Good Water Supplies And Proper Sewage Disposal Reduces Deaths

Harrisburg, Jan. 11 — (United Press).—Installation of good water supplies and proper sewage disposal for large groups of population were said by Dr. Charles H. Miner, secretary of health, today to be largely responsible for reduction in the death rate from typhoid fever during the last 15 years.

In 1906, Dr. Miner pointed out, 300 persons out of every 100,000 had typhoid fever while the rate last year was 31 typhoid cases reported out of every 100,000 of the population.

"With a single exception, there has not been an outbreak of typhoid fever in Pennsylvania chargable to public water supply over which this department has direct supervision for more than three years," said the secretary.

Investigation by health department agents reveal four elements having to do with the present typhoid rate in the state, Dr. Miner explained. These were:

1. Insanitary conditions frequently found in small industrial villages, notably in the soft coal regions in the southwestern part of the state.

2. Geological conditions in the triangular belt of limestone with its apex in Lehigh county and its base along the Maryland line extending from Franklin county eastward to Chester, where there is a higher typhoid rate than in any other section.

3. Epidemics due to milk, which are relatively small and are due to accidents over which the department has no control.

4. Isolated cases with respect to which it is difficult to determine the source of infection.

On this last point Dr. Miner stated: "The unknown carrier is responsible for many of these cases and a means of identifying carriers will assist materially in reduction of this group."

Pasteurization of milk was urged to reduce the number of milk borne epidemics and general improvement in rural sanitation urged to relieve the state entirely of typhoid, one of the most important factors of which, according to Dr. Miner, is education of the people in the dangers of drinking promiscuously from springs, wells and creeks of unknown quality.

POLICE ARREST 3 IN DRUNKEN ORGY

Burgess David R. Duvall, at the noon hour, received a telephonic communication to the effect that a man was trying to kill another man, and Officer Jack Thomas, assisted by Burgess John Hatfield of Speers, went to the scene, where they placed under arrest Mr. and Mrs. John Salowrski, Eighth street and Shady avenue, and a man by the name of Thomas Grexkey, alleged to be a friend of the woman. Burgess Duvall was communicated with by a neighbor of the Salowrskis.

According to the police, the trio had been indulging in pickhandle, and the hysterics of the woman at the police station, confirmed this statement. It is alleged that the husband of the woman is jealous of Grexkey, the alleged friend of his wife, and threatened to kill him.

The trio is being held on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

"GREEN STOCKINGS" MONDAY JANUARY 24

"Green Stockings," a comedy in three acts, will be presented by the mid-year graduating class of the Charleroi High School, Monday, January 21, in the auditorium of the school. The play, which has proved very popular in some of the Western states, was written by A. E. W. Mason, and teems with humor. Margaret Knight was chosen as the one who was best able to portray the part of Celia, the leading lady, while James Meli, as Col. Smith, is leading man. Celia Faraday is an unaffected woman of 29, with a sense of humor, while Col. Smith is a dignified, dryly humorous man of military bearing, about 40 years old. Gilbert Parks, as Admiral Grice, is a testy old gentleman of about 65, with a manner of an old sea dog, of ruddy complexion, with white hair and whiskers. Madge, or Mrs. Rockingham, and Evelyn, or Lady Trenchard, are handsome, well-dressed, fashionable women of 25 and 27 respectively. These parts are being taken by Genevieve McMahan and Sarah Welch. The roles of Henry Steele and James Raleigh, two young men of about 30 and 35, are portrayed by Edward Crum and James Ferguson. Charles Hall takes the part of Martin, a dignified old family servant. Beatrice Greenberg will present the role of Phyllis, the youngest sis-

ARREST CONSTABLE ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Joe Neil, constable at Avella, and N. M. Meridik, a Wabash Railroad detective, are charged with the larceny of $492.50 from the home of Steve Bercik, and with assault and battery on members of the family by handcuffing them while they searched the house.

The information against the minions was made by Mrs. Burcik and her brother, John Doditch, before Justice J. F. Carmichael. Both officers were released on bail in the sum of $1,000 each.

Constable Neil then made information against Steve Burcik and his wife, charging the former with the unlawful manufacture and possession of liquor, and the latter-named with assault and battery. They were lodged in the county jail in default of $1,000 bail for Mrs. Burcik, and $3,000 for her husband.

The trouble occurred on December 29, last, when, it is alleged, the officers searched the Burcik home for liquor. According to the inforamtion against Neil and Meridik, Mrs. Burcik and John Doditch charge that the officers handcuffed them and threw them on a bench. They further allege that the minions took $492.50 from the house. Both [illegible] waived a hearing and are held for the February term of criminal [illegible]. Private counsel has been [illegible] by Mr. and Mrs. Burcik, and [illegible] intimated that they will be [illegible] to a finish.

ter, a charming and pretty, but thoughtlessly selfish girl, of 20 She is ably supported by Foster Pyle, an empty-headed young swell. The character of Aunt Ida, or Mrs. Chisholm Faraday of Chicago is portrayed by Alvera Chalfant. She is a florid, quick-tempered, warm-hearted woman. Alan Brenton, in the character of William Faraday, the father of the guls, is a well-preserved man of about 65, fashionable, superficial, and thoroughly selfish

The setting of the play is in England, where there is an ancient custom, which requires an older sister to wear green stockings at the wedding of her younger sister, if that sister marries first.

Miss Rita Criste is coaching the players, and with her ability, which has been successfully demonstrated in Charleroi the past few months, the success of the class play is assured, and promises to be one of the most delightful ever presented.

Tickets are now on sale; see the class members. Admission is fifty cents, and the tickets will be reserved at the High school, Friday, January 18, at 4:15 o'clock.

DISQUALIFIED BY A RECENT QUAKE

Los Angeles, Jan. 11. — (United Press).—G. S. Clark, automobile salesman in Peru, visiting here, tells a story of pranks played by a recent quake upon one Estaban Alvarez

"Estaban went to bed after completing the harvesting of his corn field. Looking out of the indow next morning, instead of seeing a bare, well harvested field, rows of waving corn stalks met his astonished gaze. An earthquake had moved a neighboring corn field upon his premises.

"Not questioning the workings of Providence, Estaban went out and harvested again. With his accumulated wealth, he decided to run for the legislature. On the day of election, Estaban was disqualified. During the night another earthquake had moved his residence into the next district."

"Of course not," you answer. Nor would you allow any clerk or employee to do so.

Yet—around your home, and your place of business, probably, there are papers and securities, such as bonds, mortgages, stocks, certificates, that are worth more to you than a whole stack of $50 bills.

Gather together those papers you can't afford to lose—and put them in one of our Safe Deposit Boxes, which were built for just such things. They will be safe, and easily accessible when you want them.

GIVE THE BOY THE CHANCE.

At the recent Country Life Conference held in St. Louis, a moving picture film was shown of a farm boy and his prize flock of chickens. The film demonstrated that the birds were fine because the boy had a scientific knowledge of chicken culture, and that he had applied his knowledge to the care of his flock. But the boy was a mouth breather and showed further effects of malnutrition. The tragic thing about the picture was that the chickens were having a better chance than the boy.

The idea of encouraging farm children to raise thoroughbred poultry should be promoted to a greater degree than it is at present. On the other hand, it must be borne in mind that the greatest asset of the farm is neither its live stock or its poultry, but its boys and girls. They themselves are entitled to as scientific care as they are taught to give the animals that they raise. In order to develop into a strong man or woman every child must have a well-balanced diet which is eaten at regular periods; long hours of sleep in a well-ventilated room; activity as expressed in wholesome work, study, and play; instruction concerning the care of the body; and periodic physical examinations by reliable physician.

The sects that predict the "end of the world" at an early date may be interested to know that, according to Prof. McMillan of Chicago in about a billion years "the sun will meet another star at a distance equal to the distance between the earth and the sun" and that then "something will happen to the earth." Few will lose any sleep over a catacylm, however stupendous and world-rending, that is to be staged a billion years hence.

A recent summary of the achievements and continuing useful activities of the League of Nations includes the rescue of despairing Austria, the imminent relief of Hungary, the repatriation of half million prisoners the prevention of four wars, the settlement of Upper Silesia, and the continuous struggle against such world-evils as slavery, epidemic disease, the opium trade and white slave traffic.

Because his father lacked the "change" to pay him for a little job Jimmie Otis of St. Paul stood in the street in front of his home harnessed to a sign-board on which he had painted in large letters: "J. C. Otis, Attorney-at-Law, is Unair to Labor." According to the dispatch Jimmie "got his money." It is to be hoped that he also got his spanking.

It is good business for our Government to sell President Obregon war munitions we don't need, but it is rare for government itself to sell arms or to take sides against a foreign revolutionary movement in so pronounced a manner, and it looks as if a questionable precedent is being estblished in this matter.

The Berlin Tageblatt asked Maurice Maeterlinck to send the Germans a message of cheer through its columns and received in reply a bitter and scathing rebuke, not so much for the Belgians to forget what they endured when "the hoof of the Hun" was on their necks.

A MID-WINTER REVERIE.

As wintry winds with dismal sigh.
Sweep around my humble shack.
My thoughts revert to days gone by
Days just a few months back.
The snow sifts in, I know not how,
To swell my discontent,
Methinks I'll raise an awful row
When comes the man for rent.
I'm chilled thru—neck, hip and thigh,
My feet are blamed near frozen,
It's three the one the furnace guy,
Is playing cards or dozen!
The sun peeps in my dreary room,
When I am most downhearted.
But, ere he drives away the gloom,
Again he hath departed.
The coin that I had left from coal,
I've handed to the plumber;
Say, won't I be a happy soul
When comes the good old summer?

KEEPING THE KIDS ON THE FARM

Out near Chickashaw, Okla., there's a little station—and by this time probably a post office—called Lyle. Nearby are three Lyle children on the 350-acre farm who show no enthusiasm for learning to become white-collared city folks. The story runs like this: There was a Tennessee farm boy who did things "just like dad" and stayed just as poor as dad was. There was a girl, an orphan, who grew up being waited on in her sister's home. Then the girl's father asked her to join him on a Texas ranch. "It was 21 miles from town," she laughs in retrospect," and I had to cook or starve, and keep a nice house or live in filth. By and by the boy and girl became Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lyle, and tried farming on a big scale in Oklahoma.

"But we liked to work our fool selves to death," recalls Bob. And, "nine months of the year I was kept busy feeding 20 farm hands and baling the hay crop," says his wife, "and when the bottom dropped out of the hay market, and the war took all our labor, we decided we'd let the hogs do the baling and save the fine cooking."

At one time they made a record shipment of 28 cars, filled with 2,250 head of hogs. They brought $64,000 and the Lyles felt proud until they happened on a sale of pure bred hogs where 50 head sold for more than $27,000. Then and there the Lyles discarded all faith in old-fashioned methods. They substituted high-bred pigs and treated them with the consideration due to breeding. That they're succeeding financially is evidenced by the fact that three sales last year netted $75,000.

Mrs. Lyle is the business manager of the firm, carrying all correspondence, keeping the books, working up pedigrees (which for human folks had always fascinated her), and doing some clever advertising. At the fairs, where Lyle pigs are carrying off prizes, there's a funny booklet always for distribution. It is called "Pig Tales," and the long braids of hair on four girls spell out "Leave it to Lyle." Inside are craps of Mr. Lyle's humorous philosophy turned into sales arguments.

And the little Lyles? Each one had a pure bred pig sold him or her on interest. At the end of the year they sold enough pork on the hoof to pay off their notes and start them in a business that at the end of five years, their mother estimates, should give each the equivalent of 5,000 pigs worth $75 each!

"SLUSH" FUND GIVEN TO BY DEFENDANTS

New York, Jan. 11.—(United Press).—Charges that numerous defendants now on trial before Judge Learned Hand in federal court for use of the mails to defraud in selling stock in a glass casket concern had contributed to a $65,000 "slush" fund are under scrutiny of Hiram C. Todd, special assistant to Attorney General Daugherty.

Todd will present evidence to the grand jury, it is said, will sift the truth from statements that the sixty odd defendants in the suit against promoters of the Crager system glass casket corporation, paid money to Col. Thomas B. Felder with the understanding that the prosecution of the defendants would cease.

Four leading members of the Glass Casket company have pleaded guilty and 39 more are now on trial.

The Crager concern conducted extensive stock selling campaigns throughout Pennsylvania and it is said that thousands of dollars were obtained from small town speculators. The Government prosecution is based on alleged use of the mails to sell the stock.

The interest in the concern, according to the prosecution, was centered in Chicago men and was allotted as follows: Samuel Rosenblatt, 25 per cent; Benjamin Crager, 20 percent; Henry A. Seideman, 20 percent, and Samuel Safir, stock salesman, 35 percent.

DRAGGING FOR THE SUBMARINE IS STILL ON

London, Jan. 11—(United Press)—Dragging for the submarine L-24, sunk yesterday after she was struck by warship Resolution, continued today as naval officials hoped against hope that some men might still be alive in the water tight compartments of the undersea craft.

The wrecking ship Moorhouse stood by with divers ready to go down as soon as the hull of the submarine was located.

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses, assisted by their mother, Mrs. D. M. Provins. The next meeting of the class will be held at the home of Miss Dorothy Dryden, of 605 Crest avenue, Thursday, February 7.

Childrens Overalls

Children never have too many Overalls, especially in the Spring and Summer, when active outdoor sports abolish coats and sweaters. The wear and tear from hard play and much laundering makes the need of a plentiful number more essential. We have just received a shipment of Children's well-made Overalls. Sizes 2 to 6 years.

DEATH DOOMED; NOW IN A HOME

More than 22 years ago Williams was sentenced to die in the electric chair for murder of a woman companion in a drunken brawl, in Washington, D. C. On petition of lawyers and doctors, however, that the woman's death may have been caused by heart failure, his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Williams served in the penitentiary at Pozo[illegible] after a hearing at Moundsville and at Leavenworth, and recently, owing to good behavior, he was paroled in custody of McBride, who signed his papers. Williams has told inquirers that he is happy in his new situation

ALLEGHENY RIVER IS ON THE RAMPAGE

Franklin, Pa., January 11—(United Press)—After a heavy rainfall the Allegheny river at this point rose three and one-half feet over night and at 10 a. m. today it had reached the 8 foot mark. A stage of 9 feet, the highest since last spring, was considered possible.

Mahieu's Bed Rock Prices

In naming bed rock prices, we aim to help the careful housekeeper to reduce to a possible extent the abnormal cost of living. The prices named are the same to all, often below Pittsburgh Wholesale prices, and seldom above. A careful comparison will prove the aggregate saving will amount to quite a considerable sum.

Minions Charge Wavering Ranks of The Sinful

Philadelphia, Jan. 11—(United Press)—There was no pause today in "Old Gimlet Eye" Butler's anti-crime offensive here.

Without a break in his stride, the gaunt, impetuous marine commander sent his bluecoats against the wavering ranks of law-breakers, who had rather anticipated a breathing spell from the new director of public safety's intensive warfare.

Eight heads off—four lieutenants and four acting lieutenants under suspension—such was the penalty paid by those under Butler's command who didn't take his "cleanup in 48 hours or get out' edict seriously The general suspended the officers at the end of the two-day drive and announced that other suspensions and demotions would follow where he found any temporizing with crime.

"There's going to be no let-up," announced today. "Of course we can't all stayup all night every night, but if necessary we'll have a couple of these 48 hour drives every week until we've accomplished what we're after."

Throughout the night raids continued: "places" that persisted in defying the law were visited: lieutenants who had escaped the axe were untiring in well-doing against a chance visit from "old Gimlet Eye," who had warned he would be out on the warpath.

As for these lieutenants who paid the first penalty for incompetence, the general prepared formal statements of their cases today. They were given five days in which to answer these charges.

In the case of two of them, Lieuts. Duffy and Mullen, their offense was absence from their station houses when Butler put in an appearance at the climax of the offense Wednesday night. It was their "day off," it was explained in their behalf.

"It amazed me to find that a lieutenant would consider taking his 'day off' when his commander had ordered a 48-hour drive," Butler said.

The lieutenants, however, pleaded that they had been working in their districts, and may recover their bars if they can prove it at a hearing.

TO DISCUSS BETTER CONDITIONS

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 11—(United Press)—Better living conditions will be a major subject considered by the national committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which opens a three-day session here Jan. 17.

Representatives of 450 real estate boards of the United States and Canada will attend the meeting to discuss clarification of real estate values, rental conditions, real estate utilization, city building and rebuilding, and real estate and general taxation.

The session will be the principal gathering of real estate men of the country to be held this year for the formulation of policies.

L. F. Eppich of Denver, president of the association, will present to the meeting the program for the association as recommended by the directors. This program includes gathering a comprehensive body of real estate data and principles, developing real estate education and advancing real estate development through state and national legislation.

Directors and officers of association, forming the advisory board will hold sessions Jan. 16 and Jan. 20, preceding the following the sessions of the national committee.

The subject of taxation will be presented to the meeting by Charles T Moffett of Minneapolis, chairman of the taxation committee, which has made an extensive study of the question. He is expected to recommend support of the Mellon tax plan in congress.

A series of advertisements for use in newspapers has been worked out by a committee headed by Ogden A Confer of Minneapolis and will be submitted.

BEDS OF OTHER GENERATIONS

Those in Use Centuries Ago More Sumptuous, but Less Comfortable Than Couches of Today.

A drastic law of Nature requires that we spend nearly a third of our lives at insensible rest, and it is a normal consequence that we should have become connoisseurs of that piece of furniture which comforts or annoys sleep—our beds, remarks the Kansas City Star.

Hundreds of generations have been before our time, and all of these countless people slumbered as we do; not, however, upon box springs and hair mattresses The ancients slept upon skins thrown upon the ground. Later, pallets of loose rushes, heather, or straw were considered a great improvement until the Romans thought of using feathers, and the upper classes placed the cushions upon couches, which had been in use also among the Egyptians and later Greeks.

The beds of France of the Seventeenth century were sumptuous creations and played an important part in social affairs It was the custom that a bride, on the day following her marriage, should retire to her bed and welcome the visitors who came to pay their respects Again on the third day a lady of high rank would recline upon her couch and receive all the court A widow of this period also kept to her bed for several days after the death of her husband, and friends offering sympathy called upon her there

Americans Are Radicals.

Every American is by nature a radical and [illegible] st. From our earliest childhood we breathe in an atmosphere of radicalism. Were it not for the widespread use of nursing bottles, we might almost be said to drink it in with our mother's milk. We Americans are instinctively inclined to revolt against authority, whether imposed upon us in the sphere of religion or politics or social life We prefer to be our own guides and blaze out our own trail through the forests of philosophical doubt. We have scant reverence for ancient traditions, for we accept it as an axiom that the new is better than the old—Selden Peabody Delany, in the North American Review.

Theory of Evolution.

Darwin held that there is a gradual evolution or progress of low forms of life into higher forms and that man himself traces his ancestry back through ape like creatures to the most primitive form of [illegible] a period of millions of years. The process has been compared with the growth of a tree whose branches represent certain types of lower animals When one of these types has branched off, there is no chance for it to evolve further. The cat family, for instance represents one branch of the evolution tree. As it has separated from the main trunk, it could never develop toward the human type.

GOVERNMENT HALTS RUM TRANSFER PLANS

A plan of the internal revenue authorities in Pittsburgh to take over all the stock of the Vandergrift Distilling Company, near Brownsville, for the purpose of concentrating all the whiskey in one warehouse, and thus reduce to a minimum the possibility of further robberies, was countermanded by a telegram from the Internal Revenue Department at Washington.

Deputy collectors of internal revenue who had been assigned to superintendent the moving of the whisky to one building by D. B. Heiner, collector of internal revenue in the twenty-third district of Pennsylvania were notified to leave liquoor in the custody of the company's officials. During the past few years a number of large whiskey robberies have occurred at warehouse of the company which are located near the distilling plant.

The transfer was halted, it was reported, after officials of the company agreed that in disposition of the goods on government permits, they would first draw from the outlying storage warehouse, and not disturb their new bonded [illegible] house.

Wealthy Widow Would Wed Again

"Now that my stomach trouble has [illegible] I cannot tell you how terribly I suffered before taking this great remedy" It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

"SLUSH" FUND GIVEN TO BY DEFENDANTS

New York, Jan. 11.—(United Press).—Charges that numerous defendants now on trial before Judge Learned Hand in federal court for use of the mails to defraud in selling stock in a glass casket concern had contributed to a $65,000 "slush" fund are under scrutiny of Hiram C. Todd, special assistant to Attorney General Daugherty.

Todd will present evidence to the grand jury, it is said, will sift the truth from statements that the sixty odd defendants in the suit against promoters of the Crager system glass casket corporation, paid money to Col. Thomas B. Felder with the understanding that the prosecution of the defendants would cease.

Four leading members of the Glass Casket company have pleaded guilty and 39 more are now on trial.

The Crager concern conducted extensive stock selling campaigns throughout Pennsylvania and it is said that thousands of dollars were obtained from small town speculators. The Government prosecution is based on alleged use of the mails to sell the stock.

The interest in the concern, according to the prosecution, was centered in Chicago men and was allotted as follows: Samuel Rosenblatt, 25 per cent; Benjamin Crager, 20 percent; Henry A. Seideman, 20 percent, and Samuel Safir, stock salesman, 35 percent.

DRAGGING FOR THE SUBMARINE IS STILL ON

London, Jan. 11—(United Press)—Dragging for the submarine L-24, sunk yesterday after she was struck by warship Resolution, continued today as naval officials hoped against hope that some men might still be alive in the water tight compartments of the undersea craft.

The wrecking ship Moorhouse stood by with divers ready to go down as soon as the hull of the submarine was located.

DEATH DOOMED; NOW IN A HOME

More than 22 years ago Williams was sentenced to die in the electric chair for murder of a woman companion in a drunken brawl, in Washington, D. C. On petition of lawyers and doctors, however, that the woman's death may have been caused by heart failure, his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Williams served in the penitentiary at Pozo[illegible] after a hearing at Moundsville and at Leavenworth, and recently, owing to good behavior, he was paroled in custody of McBride, who signed his papers. Williams has told inquirers that he is happy in his new situation
